About

I'm a user experience designer specialized in creating interactive prototypes for web and mobile apps. Using a minimalist approach, I bring clarity and structure into a project so users can easily understand it's message and achieve the desired goal.

After I graduated from the Faculty of Letters I've started a master degree in book editing but gradually I've discovered my passion for design. It started while working in a publishing house on book covers.

During the last 3 years I've worked as a web designer and developer and now I am focusing on User Interfaces and User Experience design.

I enjoy turning complex problems into simple, minimal and intuitive designs using a working cycle includes research, wireframing, prototyping, testing and delivery.

My goal is to design products and experiences that are meaningful and I'm especially interested in utilizing new technologies to improve the way a message is transmitted and the way we communicate in general.
